

55 / STUDIO DRIFT

The GHOST is a futuristic concept of a chair, 3-dimensionally captured within the boundaries of reality. It gives you a dramatic feeling: unbelievable, high-tech, but beautiful! DRIFT sketches an image that cannot exist yet... But with today's techniques it becomes real.

56 / ERIK GROOT

The Bottlebulb lamp combines a mundane object with a bourgeois lifestyle. Using glass bottles in all varieties, an ambiance is created specific to the colour and shape of each of the individual bottles. The foot flows in a liquid line from the neck of the bottle to the ground.

59 / PETER HENNEKAM

The 'this is a....' project is a product series, introduced by its first object in line: a little light, a small box. The product is designed for those charmed by the notion that from now on 'less' is necessary.

62 / INGE RENS

Human creation embraces the natural origins of materials that we cannot influence. In Structures of Nature some natural materials are allowed to stay as they are, while others are subject to the designer's intervention. The tension between the two is rendered visible in architectural, but natural jewellery.
